

Contact: Nicole DeMarco
Nicole@bigvoicecomm.com
203-389-5223

Institute for Oral Health Recognizes Individuals for Participation and Dedication

Jacksonville, Fla. (June 19, 2017) - At this year's 94th Annual Conference, the American Dental Hygienists' Association's (ADHA) Institute of Oral Health recognized seven volunteer leaders for their outstanding participation and dedication to the Institute. ADHA's Institute for Oral Health provides grants and scholarships to advance dental hygiene through research and service. ADHA extends congratulations to the following:

LeeAnn Winkler, RDH, BSDH

Texas, ADHA Constituent with the highest percentage of members as institute donors-Category I

Miriam Burk, RDH

Iowa, ADHA Constituent with the highest percentage of members as institute donors-Category II

Lisa Goss, RDH, BS

Delaware, ADHA Constituent with the highest percentage of members as institute donors-category III

Michele Rase, CDA, RDH, BS

New York, ADHA Constituent that made the largest organizational donation for the fiscal year- category I

Lisa Rowley, CDA, RDH, MS

Oregon, ADHA Constituent that made the largest organizational donation for the fiscal year- category II

Laura Mallery-Sayre, RDH, BS

Hawaii, ADHA Constituents that made the largest organizational donation for the fiscal year- category III

Cynthia Baty, RDH, BS

Oklahoma, Liaison of The Year Award

###

About the American Dental Hygienists' Association

The American Dental Hygienists' Association (ADHA) is the largest national organization representing the professional interests of more than 185,000 dental hygienists across the country. Dental hygienists are preventive oral health professionals, licensed in dental hygiene, who provide educational, clinical and therapeutic services that support total health through the promotion of optimal oral health. For more information about ADHA, dental hygiene or the link between oral health and general health, visit ADHA at www.adha.org.

About the ADHA's Institute for Oral Health

Founded in 1957, the ADHA Institute for Oral Health is the philanthropic foundation to advance professional excellence in dental hygiene education and research. Working for the dental hygiene community, the ADHA Institute for Oral Health provides opportunities for academic achievement through Scholarships and Fellowships, resources to advance the professional field through Research Grants, and support for dental hygienists to improve the public's health through Community Service Grants. For more information, please visit <http://www.adha.org/institute-for-oral-health>.